CARE

MAKE A NEW FRIEND, GAIN A NEW PERSPECTIVE

Life is sweeter when it's shared with friends!

The Aged Care Volunteer Visitors Scheme (ACVVS), matches friendly volunteers to older people wanting social connection.

Being part of the ACVVS is not just a nice thing to do; it's also fun, rewarding and interesting. Plus, you could make someone's day.

Creating new friendships across generations helps us feel valued and connected. You will learn and gain so much, just by sharing your time.

HOW DO I ARRANGE VISITS FOR SOMEONE I KNOW?

To be eligible for visits from an ACVVS volunteer, a person must receive a Support at Home Package or be waiting for one, or live in an aged-care residence.

You may self-refer, or be referred to the program by someone who thinks you can benefit from regular visits, such as an aged-care provider, healthcare professional, a neighbour or family member.

The idea is to provide friendship and reduce the time the older person spends alone. Each visit will bring new conversation and shared stories.
