We need more heroes. Are you hero material?

Is 2026 your year to suit up and step into action? Every community needs its superheroes; consider volunteering this year and putting your powers to work where they're needed most.

Volunteers are the humble heroes who strengthen communities and amplify the good in the world. This National Volunteer Week event celebrates them and invites others to step forward and join in.

ABOUT THE EVENT

This live installation brings together volunteers from across the community, all 'suited up' in capes alongside special guest superheroes, to celebrate the impact of volunteering. Hosted by Lutheran Care and Andrew Baines, and supported by Volunteers SA/NT, the event will see media and sporting personality Mark Soderstrom chatting with volunteers, alongside music, conversation, information, and light refreshments for volunteers.
